HAIR. Just received, a row and large supply of Hair Goods. 121w E. LUDLOW.

Axling & Bergum, are having an unusual run these cold damp days.

S. Johnson & Co., keep all the vegetables of the season, fresh and nice.

W. H. Watkins will have all the leading papers of the country, as well as magazines, pictorial &c., on their tables this morning.

Moore & Sturgis did a splendid retail business yesterday, as they always do, but not more than they deserve.

The tables of the Colusa House, in East Waco, are unsurpassed by any hotel in the State, & it is said that now.

A great deal of important business has been dispatched in the District Court, during the week just past.

The musical appetite of the citizens of this fair town, is in a fair way to be satisfied for once.

Mr. Justice Massey left yesterday for St. Louis, to buy the iron necessary for the new jail, the construction of which will be commenced at an early day.

Mr. H. B. Tidcock, of Gatesville, called yesterday. From him we learn that the wheat has been much injured in Coryell county, by both rust and frost.

The Commercial, under the able and polite management of our friends, Hillebrand & Smith, is fast becoming one of the most popular saloons in the State, as well as the most quiet and orderly.

On Thursday night, Mr. McLaren's guard, who watches the horses in his lot, where they have been placed while the new stable is being built, detected two men going in the direction of the stock. Upon being hailed, they retreated rapidly, when the guard fired, but without any known effect. It is neither a good or a safe thing to do, to go about those "diggings" now.

YE AUD FOLKS CONCERT—This grand concert will be given in our city on the nights of the 21st and 22d April. The music will consist of a selection of pieces one hundred years old, and the musicians in costumes of the same period. This, we predict, will be one of the grandest entertainments ever given in our city. Full programmes will be published during the week.

We were greatly amused yesterday to see our two "baby" policemen, John and Hubin, with a large drove of small pigs, going in the direction of the "lock-up." The peppy pigs gave the boys a world of trouble, and which trouble Simon Trice was hard-hearted enough to laugh at. Simon had his handkerchief full of suspicious looking rolls, done up in brown paper, and that might have caused his good humor, but it looked a little weird, at all events, under the circumstances.

Cold as church charity, was the rain and wind yesterday.

Eight wagon loads of cotton were seen on the square at one time yesterday.

DIED—At his residence, near this city, yesterday, (Saturday) the 18th, of apoplexy, Rev. George W. Prather, in his sixty-eighth year.

This news falls upon this community with peculiar weight. The deceased was an old resident of this county; had been more than ordinarily successful in this life, and died regretted, as the good always are.

We will publish, at an early day, a full biographical sketch of the life and history of the deceased. The family have our heartfelt sympathies in their bereavement.

A gentleman from Gatesville spent the greater part of an afternoon, the other day, in making the last six miles of the trip. He says the lanes between here and South Bosque are nearly impassable. We think the County Court should by all means devise some way to have them improved, or at least made passable. It is working a great hardship to the people who would come here to trade, and who, by the wretched condition of the roads, are driven to seek more distant and less desirable markets. There are a large number of clever gentlemen who have large amounts of cheap goods on their shelves in stores in Waco, who would be glad to sell them to the people of the surrounding country, and which they would undoubtedly do, could these two parties, intent on trade, effect a junction without wading, floundering or dragging through seas of black mud, nearly as deep as the bottomless pit itself.

WACO, April, 1874.

Dr. J. Mark:

DEAR SIR—I have been sorely afflicted with Rheumatism for several years, so much so that at times I have not been able to walk without the greatest pain for two every remedy, and been attended on by several good physicians, but have never experienced any relief until I was induced to try "Lucky-
